75 Mph on Francis rd. Curve Causes Crash; Mokenan Hospitalized

Man Critically Injured When Car Hits Train

A Midlothian resident is in St. James hospital, Chicago Heights, in a critical condition, as a result of a grade crossing crash east of Frankfort about 6 o'clock Monday night.

He drove into the side of an east bound Michigan Central freight train and his automobile was so twisted by the impact that it was with difficulty that the driver was extricated from the wreckage.

The driver of the car is Frederick Holdt, 33, of 14623 Kostner street. He was south-bound on Harlem ave. There are no gates at this crossing, nor warning bell or signal light, it was said. There is tall corn in the field that comes down to the rail crossing and it is said that a person approaching the crossing in the dark would have difficulty in seeing a train. It was also pointed out by those on the spot a few minutes after the accident that the train should have been clearly visible to anyone approaching the crossing from the north.

The train had almost passed. Holdt's car is reported to have struck the second car from the end. His car was carried east of the crossing some 25 or 30 feet, according to investigators.

The accident occurred just over the line in Cook county, it was said, and so was covered by State Trooper Wm. Walton of Dist. 4. Troopers also were present from Dist. 5.

Frankfort Man Trips Over Garden Hose, Breaks Hip

Arthur Geuther, 75, of Frankfort, is in St. James hospital with a fractured hip as a result of an accident at his home last Friday, Aug. 28.

Mr. Geuther was watering the flowers in his yard and stepping back tripped over the hose and fell on the sidewalk.

He was taken to the hospital where he underwent surgery Tuesday for repair of the broken hip. Yesterday his condition was reported as satisfactory.

Orland Grade School Teachers Make Year's Plans at Workshop

A three-day workshop for Orland Park grade school teachers under the direction of Supt. Norbert Jerling will end tomorrow. The session was spent in planning for the improvement of instruction for the school year that begins next Tuesday, Sept. 8.

At the workshop a demonstration was given of the techniques and use of visual education.

Among the subjects taken up was the function of a nurse in the school health program. Also discussed was the incorporation of a standard dictionary in the textbook rental plan and its place within the school program.

Evaluation of the Joplin plan of reading used last year was made and plans formulated for continued improvement of reading were discussed.

Ample time was given teachers to organize lesson plans, and arrange supplies and materials for their rooms.

School will open at 8:55 o'clock next Tuesday morning, and parents are reminded that the session will continue thru the afternoon. Milk will be provided for those ordering.

Parents also are reminded that youngsters are to bring the money for book rentals on the first day of school. This year the fee for books in the first four grades will be $7 and for the remaining grades, $8.

If parents want accident insurance for their youngsters, the premium will be $1.50. Also due will be milk money for September -- 35 cents for half pint cartons white milk, 50 cents chocolate milk.

It is suggested parents of youngsters in the first three grades either accompany their children to school for registration and payment of the required fees or instruct them as to the route to be taken to school and provide an envelope for the money.

Pupils who live more than a mile and a half from the school will be transported by bus. Each child has been informed as to where he may board the bus and is to be at such place by 8:15 a.m. Three buses will be used, each for a different route.

Residents of Orland Park Hills have completed arrangements with the bus company to pay for the use of two buses to transport pupils to

There will be meetings each evening at 7:30 pm. In the local church on 171st and Oconito and two afternoon sessions,

Rev. R. E. Copelin

Soil, Water Protection Vital

The annual conference of the Illinois Soil Conservation districts and ladies auxiliary was held at the Student Center of Western Illinois University at Macomb, Aug. 25, 26, and 27. The auxiliary held separate sessions except for important programs when joint sessions were held with the men. Approximately 200 district chairman, board members, state officers and their wives were in attendance. Will county was represented by its chairman, Loren Sass and Mrs. Sass.

Among the speakers during the convention were Cy Crawford, area vice president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts; Herbert R. Damisch, chief of agricultural education of the University of Illinois; Oscar Laper, NASCD director; and Everett T. Winters, executive vice president of the Mississippi Valley association.

Soil conservation districts were praised by these speakers for the work they are doing. The group was told that the biggest problem in the country today is that a billion tons of soil is washed into the ocean each year.

The surplus problem was discussed and the group was encouraged to store surplus crops in the soil rather than in storage bins.

The advantage of conservation farming over non conservation farming was outlined. Conservation farming is more profitable by increasing crop yield, soil fertility and the saving of water. The increasing need for water conservation is a new problem. Adequate water and sewage facilities for our mushrooming population will require billions of dollars in the next 10 to 15 years.

The importance of the duties of directors of soil conservation districts was emphasized by Mr. Crawford. He told the directors that their job, which is without salary, is the most important job that any man can hold today. The future welfare of the nation depends on the conservation of our soils and water which provide the food for our people. District directors determine policy and run their districts and if they fail to discharge their responsibilities (Continued to page 7)

ACCIDENTS TAKE TOLL IN AREA-The picture at the left was taken after Frederick C. Holdt, 33, of Midlothian, had been removed from the wreckage of his car after it had collided with a Michigan Central freight train east of Frankfort. Fortunately for the motorist his car struck the train only two cars from the end and so his car was dragged only about 25 or 30 feet. Holdt was pinned in the car and is reported to be in a critical condition at St. James hospital in Chicago Heights. The accident occurred on the Harlem ave. crossing of the Michigan Central south of U.S. 30.

The photograph in the center was taken on Francis road, about a mile and a half west of Mokena last Thursday afternoon. A car driven by David Duffy, 14, of New Lenox township, traveling east, took a curve too fast and went out of control. The car overturned and rolled over several times, spilling the four occupants onto the highway. One lad, Charles V. Neels, New Lenox, was killed and it was he over whom the men are covering with a blanket. The youth in the left foreground was not identified when the picture was taken. That he was thrown to the ground with considerable force is evidenced by the fact that he was literally knocked out of his shoes, one of which is seen resting on the road. The other picture is that of the car in which the youths were riding. One of the boys, Kenneth Lorenz, 16, of Mokena, who was a stranger to the others and had accepted a ride from near Cedar road in New Lenox, is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet. He is seriously injured. The other two boys in the car escaped with minor injuries. They were treated at Silver Cross and released. (Marvin Smith photos)

Too Many Starlings McGovney Street Residents Protest

Some of the residents of McGovney street, Mokena, appeared before the village board Tuesday night to seek solution for the starling problem with which they are plagued.

Andrew Harr and Harold Sayers who reside on that thoroughfare, told board members one needs an umbrella to pass along McGovney street.

They wanted permission to shoot some of the birds in the hopes that the others would seek new roosting places.

Complaints about the Starlings in the village park were also voiced.

The complainants are to meet with the police committee tonight to discuss the situation.

Salvation Army Raises $24.65 At Frankfort

Mrs. Burns joins with the Salvation Army in expressing deep appreciation for the generous response of the volunteer taggers and contributors.

Total "Doughnut Day" contributions amounted to $157.76, 17, announced Mrs. Henry D. Paschen, general chairman of the drive. Tagging in the suburbs was organized under the direction of Mrs. G. Reed Basinger of Oak Park, suburban area chairman, and Mrs. Earl O. Ehrhardt, of Elmhurst co-chairman.

The drive was held thruout Chicago and 142 suburbs in Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake, McHenry, Will and Lake (Indiana) counties.

"Doughnut Day" contributions help support the Salvation Army's program of emergency assistance and social services offered to persons in need in the greater Chicago area. The Salvation Army performed a service for one of the distressed every 11 seconds thruout 1958. All services are given without consideration to color or religion.

Twenty per cent of the funds raised in the local "Doughnut Day" drive will remain in Frankfort, as in other communities where local Salvation Army service unit committees are organized. These funds are used for local emergencies or disasters, and to finance unduplicated programs of health care or other service. The service unit committee, comprised of representative residents acting on behalf of the Salvation Army, decides how the funds will be used to assist needy individuals or families.

"How do you get her to cook in this weather?"

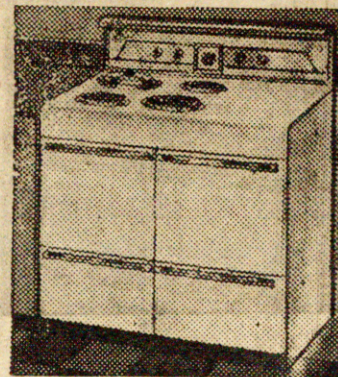

"Easy, I got her a new electric range!"

Al: "Well, I know they're a lot cooler to cook on, but..."
Bill: "Man, that's not the half of it! Ann says our new electric range not only keeps the kitchen cooler but more comfortable, too. And it sure is cleaner. Haven't washed a wall since we got it."

Al: "Sounds kinda rich for my blood. What does it cost you to run?"
Bill: "Not half what you'd expect. We figure it averages out at about 2 1/2 cents a meal. This is maybe a fraction of a cent more than our old stove, but for my money it's worth it. Hey, here comes the coffee!"

Keep your kitchen 10 degrees cooler with a new electric range!

Natl. Guard to Take Over Three NIKIE Unit Bases

Another link in the one-army chain is being forged as units of the Illinois National Guard prepare to take over several 22d Artillery Group (Air Defense) NIKIE - AJAX guided missile sites.

The Air Defense Artillery sites at Naperville, Worth and Wolf Lake (Hogewisch station) will be converted to national guard installations at the end of an extensive turn-over cycle of training, joint occupancy and total occupancy.

All sites currently operate under Regular Army control and are part of the 22d Grp., Orland Park.

Soon Illinois National Guard training will become practical application as the Guardsmen help to defend the Chicago-Gary industrial and population complex from possible aggressor air attack.

Now guardsmen are being welcomed onto the sites by their regular army counterparts. Batteries of the 2d Missile Bn., 202d Artillery Group (Air Defense), Illinois National Guard, are to be entertained at formal welcoming ceremonies.

Sunday, Aug. 30, Lt. Colonel Nicholas J. Bruno, commanding officer, 4th Missile Bn., 52d Artillery, was host to the guardsmen at welcoming ceremonies at the Wolf Lake site. Lt. Eugene Howell is Battery Commander of one of the two guard units at Wolf Lake while Lt. John Smith commands the other.

Tomorrow, Sept. 4, Captain Harold Ferdinand, commander of Battery A, 2d Missile Bn., 60th Artillery, Naperville will greet guardsmen at his site. Lt. Edwin Radcliffe commands the guard unit at Naperville. And Saturday, Sept. 12th Capt. Wm. Robb, commander Btry. C, 2d Missile Bn., 60th Artillery, Worth, will preside at welcoming ceremonies for guardsmen at his Nike site. The guard unit at Worth is commanded by Lt. Frank Quarles.

National guardsmen at all three locations have received intensive on the job training. Some technicians of the Illinois guard have received specialized electronics and rocketry courses at the army's Air Defense Center, Ft. Bliss, Tex.

When the turn-over cycle is ended, the members of the guards' 2d Missile Bn. will achieve the first operational status guard units in Illinois have achieved. The distinction of becoming the "first on the air" guard unit in the Chicago-Gary defense belongs to the battalion and its commanding officer, Lt. Col. Arthur Andre.

Judith Redman-Robert Jordan Wed at Double Ring Ceremony

At a double ring ceremony in the Zion Lutheran church, Tinley Park, on Saturday, Aug. 22, Miss Judith Ann Redman and Robert Ernest Jordan were united in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Redman of 16910 New England ave., Tinley Park, and the groom, the son of Ernest Jordan, Orland Park.

The Rev. Walter C. Lieb-farth officiated at the evening candlelight service.

The church was attractively decorated with gladiolas, and satin ribbons on the pews. The altar candlelighters were Richard Redman, brother of the bride; and Lyle Jordan, of the groom.

The organist, Mrs. M. Ren-sink accompanied the soloist, Walter Wehr, as he sang "At the Altar I Stand" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father, was lovely in a bridal gown of heavy silk and lace, trimmed in pearls and sequins, and having a bustle back, with extending chapel train. Her jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls, her flowers, a bouquet of star mums and white roses, with delicate rhinestone decoration throughout the bouquet. She wore a fingertip veil and matching gloves.

The maid of honor, Jeanette Bailey, wore a pink ballerina length taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white mums, also trimmed with rhinestones. The bridesmaids, Sandy Casey, cousin of the bride, and Carol Jordan, sister-in-law of the bride, wore the same type and color dresses. Each wore pink tiaras to match their gowns and gloves. They carried bouquets similar to that of the maid of honor. All wore clear plastic shoes trimmed in rhinestones.

The flower girl, Kimberly Kreznor, cousin of the bride, was similarly gowned and carried a smaller colonial bouquet.

The ring bearer, Billy Freitag, dressed in a tuxedo, carried a ring on a white satin pillow.

John Redman, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Kelly and Donald Kelly of Lockport, who wore summer tuxedos.

The mother of the bride was dressed in pale blue with black and white accessories, and wore a white orchid corsage.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Selby Hirsch, Tinley Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Mason Redman, of Chicago, the grandparents of the bride.

A smorgasbord dinner was served at the reception which followed in the parish hall of the church, and was attended by 400 guests. The bridal table was centered with a five-tier wedding cake, decorated with a church on top and attendants walking down tiers on a red velvet ribbon.

The young couple are living in a new home in Orland Park. She has been employed in downtown Chicago. He is employed at Cooper's Electric Co., Orland Park.

Rural Village Teachers Meet Next Tuesday

Teachers of rural and village schools in Will county will put in a full day next Tuesday, Sept. 8.

In the morning they will be at their posts to register pupils, examine textbooks to see that they conform to the approved list; advise youngsters as to other supplies required and arrange for a full day's program on Wednesday, Sept. 9. That is at 9 o'clock.

At 1:00 Tuesday afternoon, the teachers will attend a conference at Keith elementary school, Fourth avenue at Hickory creek, Joliet.

The main feature of this program, according to County Supt. Verne E. Crackel, will be the introduction of a new Illinois curriculum series, "Thinking in the Language of Mathematics," by Denson Sprouse, assistant general supervisor from the office of the state department of public instruction.

Mr. Sprouse will have copies to pass out.

Also on the program will be a film showing the building of the nuclear power plant at Dresden Heights and Supt. Crackel will discuss new legislation affecting schools and several other subjects.

The county health department, the Junior Red Cross program, the Will County TB Association and the Tri-City Dairy Council will have representatives at the meeting who will outline their services that are available to schools.

Names and Addresses of Labor Crew Leaders Must be Recorded

Beginning with 1959 every farmer who has work done by a farm labor crew is required by Internal Revenue Service regulations to keep a record of the name, permanent address, and the employer's identification number of each crew leader who furnishes him workers for farm work.

The crew leaders referred to in the regulation are those who are employers of the members of the crew.

The crew leader is the employer of the members of the crew if (1) he furnishes them to the farmer and pays them and (2) there is no written agreement with the farm operator providing that the crew leader himself is an employee of the farmer.

If the farmer has a written agreement with the crew leader showing that the crew leader is his employee, the farmer is not required to keep a record of the crew leader's address, but in this case the farmer must make regular social security reports and pay taxes on the wages paid to the crew leader and to the members of the crew. The new requirement is contained in the Agricultural Employer's Social Security Tax Guide for 1959 (Circular A). Additional information and copies of the Guide may be secured from any office of the Internal Revenue Service of the Social Security Administration.

Lincoln - Way Light . . . Lashment Optimistic

By DEAN DALLAS
Sports Editor

"Light and not too fast," was part of the analysis of the football picture for Lincoln-Way community high school by head coach Jonas Lashmet.

"I'm counting on this team to be smarter for they are smaller and even a bit slower than last season's squad that did not win many games," confided the Knight's mentor. They will have to be-if they are going to offset the problems of speed and weight.

"We are looking for crisp and quick thinking. The spirit of the squad is very high. The very first day and in the first exercise -- the boys were asked to run a mile and were given a time limit. Every man out for the sport made the distance under the time limit. To the coaching staff this indicates a desire to play and a good physical condition," Lashmet declared.

He became more optimistic as he talked. "Actually, if our tackles come thru -- well, I can foresee a winning season."

The tackle situation revolves around five sturdy fellows. These are the biggest men on the squad.

Hogan Lau, converted full-back and the fastest man on the squad, is battling for one position.

Ed Smith, heavyweight wrestler and the heaviest player that Lashmet has on his squad, at 220, is out front as a tackle prospect.

Two other juniors, and a senior, all about 180 pounds, are trying to horn in. Buster Brown is the only returning letterman of those seeking the tackle berths. Brown may have a present edge because of his guard experience. But Lashmet's head has been turned by the speed of Lau and the size of Smith.

Juniors John Kripp and John Charvat must not be counted out of the battle for the job. In fact, Lashmet would not commit himself on any of the five.

He re-emphasized that these five men, on their performance carry the hopes of the Lincoln - Way football fortunes for the fall of 1959.

"The our backfield probably will be filled with juniors it will be a great deal better than last year's. When some of these fellows were used last season they looked better than the seniors," explained Lashmet.

The three lettermen backs, Jerry Haehnlein, Jim McGuire, and Larry Surges, will have a rugged time keeping their positions from up and coming juniors.

Dan Fenn, who saw plenty of action as a sophomore, should blossom into a rugged running threat for the Knights this year.

Wayne Lauffer is considered a "real tough" back by Lashmet. Ron Miller is a good junior prospect, expected to give Haehnlein plenty of trouble in the battle for the fullback slot.

"Skip" Krulich seems to be almost set at quarterback for the present. He will have to improve if the L-Way squad is going to be fearsome in the SW Suburban conference this fall.

"The center of our line is not keeping me up nights," reported Lashmet. "We have two returning lettermen at the guard positions and they were good last year. They are Les Osborne and Marvin Grey. There are also a couple of strong fellows backing them. Bill Seaverson will play center.

"But we are light," Lashmet went on. "Our line will average about 175 pounds and the backfield will not exceed 160." I guess that is rather smaller than Rich and Bremen and the other powers in the SWS.

"The team spirit and desire should go a long way toward giving us a winning season," was Lashmet's parting remark.

Of the $57.7 billion that Americans spent for farm grown food in 1958, $20.8 billion went to farmers and $36.9 billion into marketing costs.

Methodist Dethrone Zion Lutheran's

The Methodists swept thru the Tinley Park Church softball league playoffs, recording three straight victories without a loss, to dethrone Zion Lutheran. They won the crucial contest Monday evening from Zion, 12-10. It was the second time that the Methodists had whipped Zion in the playoffs.

Earlier Zion had knocked off St. George, 15-12, and then the Methodists put St. George out of the battle with a thrilling 11-10 victory in the third game of the round-robin series.

Russ Andres and Rich Hopman supplied most of the Methodist punch as each hit two-run home runs in the close verdict for the league crown.

The Methodists didn't wait in this game. Zion scored one in the top half of the first and then the Methodists scored all of their runs in the first two innings. Six runs in the first and as many in the second inning.

Zion kept pecking away at the lead, but its two runs in the top half of the seventh was two runs short and their one year rule of the Church league was over.

The Methodists final record was 11 wins and only two losses for the entire season.

The All-Star game will be played at the Little League field Thursday, Sept. 3rd, at 6:30 p.m.

Methodist will play the all-star team that was announced in the Semmler Press last week.

The trophies will be given out at the Bill Veeck night on Sept. 10 at the St. George church.

"Tad" Morlock, of Orland, No.1 QB Prospect at Indiana State

David A. "Tad" Morlock, senior quarterback from Orland Park, is one of 18 returning varsity lettermen at Indiana State this fall. Coach Bill Jones is counting on the varsity letterman and 15 of last year's frosh numeral winners to form the nucleus of this year's squad.

Morlock, a 1954 graduate of Carl Sandburg high school in Orland Park, led Indiana State in scoring last season as he scored four touchdowns and passed for three other scores. He also ran for a point after touchdown score, and passed for three others.

The first string quarterback connected on 42 of 84 passes good for 545 yards and picked up an additional net rushing yardage of 197.

A transfer here from De Pauw university, Morlock is enjoying his third season on the Indiana State squad which opens the 1959 slate with a home night game Sept. 19th against Eastern Illinois.

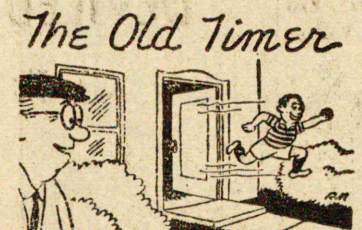

"500" Stars to Race Saturday At Milwaukee

Eddie Sachs, 1958 USAC sprint car champion and Len Sutton, winner of the recent Springfield 100 for big cars, have both signed to appear at Illiana Speedway on Saturday night, Sept. 5. Illiana presents a 30 lap, inverted start, season championship on that date, and has already signed more than 20 Indianapolis 500 drivers to appear in the 81 events program.

Saturday night's race, the sixth in a series of national championship midget races under the USAC banner, marks the high point of the 1959 season which has featured such stars as Rodger Ward, Tony Bettenhausen and Shorty Templeman. The local track has presented more championship meetings than any other single track in the U.S.

Top name race drivers from both coasts, as well as central USA, will participate in Saturday's contest. A victory here could spell the difference in point standings for the championship in both mid-west and national crowns.

Bob Wente, formerly of So. Bend, Ind. is now second in the ranking with Gene Hartley of Roanoke, Ind. in the lead. Wente won the feature here on Aug. 15 with Hartley second and Shorty Templeman third. Jimmy Davies and Bill Homier, both of the west coast are ranked 3rd and 8th, respectively.

"The open door policy was conceived by an American statesman, but it's practiced by youngsters everywhere."

Knight Armour

Sixty-two fellows reported for the first practice and the L-Way coaching staff is expecting about 20 freshmen to report next week.

There were nearly 30 involved in actual varsity look over at the present time.

There are 12 returning lettermen for Lashmet. This would seem to indicate a good basis for a winning football squad.

Don Carter, returning letterman, is considered by Lashmet a good sturdy end. At the moment it seems that Bob Lichtenwalter will team with Carter at the other end position. Lashmet is high on both of these boys.

Lincoln-Way opens the regular season on Sept. 19 with Lemont.

However, the schedule did not do much of a favor to Mr. Lashmet and his crew. They have to meet the two perennial football powerhouses in successive weeks, Bremen and Rich.

If that is not enough, Carl Sandburg is the opponent in the Homecoming affair the next week. Sandburg had the top frosh-soph squad last year.

Some beginning. This could hurt the chances of the L-Way winning aspirations. It's tough to keep the boys up for the big game for three successive weeks.

"Bremen has always out-classed us," smiled Lashmet, "but they have had difficulty

Cub Scout Pack Urgently Needs 3 Den Mothers

The next meeting of Boy Scout troop 255 will be held Monday, Aug. 31 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall.

Plans for the camping trip to the Indiana Dunes on Sept. 17, 18, 19 were at the Aug. 31 meeting of Boy Scout Troop 255, Tinley Park.

The committee and den mothers of Cub Scout pack 255, met recently in the home of Mrs. Peter Boer.

The Pack needs three more den mothers, it has been announced, and unless three women volunteer to serve, it is feared these dens will have to be deactivated and the boys placed on the waiting list until vacancies occur in other dens.

Women who would like to become den mothers, will receive training from the Cub scoutmaster and the scouting organization. Any interested may offer their services by calling the Cubmaster, Robert Meyer, at Kellogg 2-4483, or Mike Haber, committee chairman, at Kellogg 2-2903.

The retiring den mothers have served the organization faithfully and well and it is with regret that the committee accepts the resignations of Mrs. Winifred Bauman, Mrs. Pearl Yost and Mrs. William Fletcher.

The Cub Scout pack is planning participation in the Labor Day parade and will assist at the Fall Festival.

beating us badly. In fact, they have only beaten us by just wearing us down with superior manpower."

Tony Lenti Aims for 2nd Feature Win of Season

Veteran Tony Lenti of Chicago will aim for his second feature victory of the season Saturday night in the midget auto races at Joliet Memorial stadium.

Lenti, who has competed at the Joliet track since racing opened there in 1952 has made a substantial comeback this year after several mediocre seasons. He won his first feature in three years a few weeks ago, and last weekend placed second behind Bob Tattersall of Sreator in the year's fourth 50 lap main event.

Tattersall, on the basis of winning all four 50 lap events plus two at 25 laps, has the track title sewed up for the second straight season and the third time since 1956.

Chicago ace Danny Kladis, in a whirlwind season wind-up, has captured second place in the track point standings. Kladis won 3 straight features before Tattersall broke the string last weekend. Kladis, the only driver to win three in a row, now owns a total of five main event triumphs.

Among the other drivers who will be in contention Saturday night will be Russ Sweedler, Bernie Wilhelm and Bob McGee of Joliet, Nevt White of Lockport, Walt Wieneke, Libertyville, George Sellery, of Westchester and Billy Woods, Kenosha, Wisc.

There will be 4 heat races, a handicap, 15 lap semi-feature and 25 lap feature. Time trials start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m.

Eisenhower's bust and a mis sile are the latest additions to a 254 coin bank display at an Oregon bank.

Annexation Election Oct. 13 At Bremen Hts.

(CNS) A special election in Bremen Heights has been called by the county court for Oct. 13 to decide whether the unincorporated community is annexed to the village of Midlothian.

Judge Otto Kerner entered the election order Friday after several hearings over a two week period resulted in the deletion of some land from consideration in the annexation issue.

Owners of some property on the border of the Bremen Heights territory opposed annexation at this time and their wishes were upheld by the court. They were represented by Attorney Leland Rayson and George J. Rohe.

Voter approval at the election would permit Midlothian to annex the territory. Land owned by objectors and deleted from the case by the court will not be affected by the outcome.

A description of the boundaries of the area where annexation will be decided runs to 3 1/2 typewritten pages in the court order.

The court established one precinct for the territory, with the lone polling place at 14348 Kenneth avenue, Bremen twp. Three precinct judges of election were appointed by the court with their compensation fixed at $10 each for the day. They are Phyllis Cook, 14341 Kilbourn, Dorothy Goodman, 14557 Keating, and Evelyn Maxfield, 14426 Kilpatrick.

they will find their districts being run by federal bureaucracy. Districts are formed by choice of the people and are not forced on anyone. They provide technical assistance of which directors should make the fullest use.

The soil conservation service in each county is responsible for administering its personnel and for maintaining its technical standard. But it does not interfere with the management of soil conservation districts.

This job must be left to the directors of the districts who are elected by their neighbors to manage the affairs of the districts. Strong state and national district associations make it easier for local districts to carry out their jobs because they are thus able to speak from a position of strength.

There is a great need for continued research in soil and water conservation in order that the more and more difficult problems facing farmers can be solved. Today, farmers cannot afford to push ahead into new methods without tried and tested ways of doing things. Soil conservation districts can help get better research by suggesting what is needed.

The outstanding need of all is strong leadership in planning ahead in the soil conservation districts movement and in preparing for events to come. The SCS must plan ahead, but its plans must be in line with those of the districts. Individual districts can do this to some degree but a forceful expression of their needs can best be felt when given thru strong state associations of districts.

Since 60% of the tillable land in Illinois is owned by women the importance of women in soil conservation was stressed. Woman land owners must be reached and they must be made to understand the importance of soil and water conservation.

Auxiliary members were encouraged to work on Conservation education projects in their districts, promoting Conservation programs in schools and women's clubs. The promoting of the soil stewardship program was stressed and the auxiliary pledged their continued support to the directors of the soil conservation districts.

Mrs. Doreen Bricker, state president of the Auxiliary, presided at all sessions of the conference of the auxiliary. Miss Mercedes Hurst of the International Harvester Co., addressed the auxiliary on the subject, "Make Today Count." Mrs. Hazel Adams, McDonough County Home Advisor, gave a demonstration on "Harmonize Your Tableware." The ladies enjoyed a tour of the Haeger Pottery, the new Methodist church and the new McDonough county hospital, all in Macomb.

canal and the sanitary district has been criticized for this situation.

A sewer would catch the overflow and transmit it for treatment at the Stickney treatment works, some nine miles away, via the districts Hodgkins interceptor sewer now under construction.

In urging approval of the plans, Burton A. Scheidt, chief engineer, declared: "I want this job done in a hurry." He said he'll press for inclusion of a 45 day completion date in the contract when awarded.

The project calls for installation of an interceptor sewer 7,000 feet long along the north bank of the canal west of Lawndale and east of Mannheim road. The area is between Hodgkins and Willow Springs.

Police Set to Keep Labor Day Traffic Moving Safely, Sanelly

The police department will cooperate fully in the statewide Traffic Condition Red Alert for the Labor Day holiday, Police Chief Harold C. Moore advises.

He said all his officers will be on duty during the 78 hour holiday working closely with state and county police authorities in a full scale crackdown on traffic violators.

Chief Moore said the Red Alert, which will be in effect from 6 p.m. Friday through midnight Monday, identifies a period of extreme danger for motorists.

In order to help reduce accidents during this period, all police agencies in the state are working together in a full scale program of a strict traffic law enforcement.

"Speeders and those who drive after drinking create severe hazards during the holidays when there is a greater volume of traffic," Chief Moore said. "Therefore I have instructed my men to be especially watchful for drunk drivers and speeders."

There will be no warning tickets issued by Tinley Park police officers during the holiday, the chief added. "Instead, violators will be arrested on the spot and taken before the judge for immediate disposition of the case," he declared.

Be Honest With Your Feet, Says Expert-Get Shoes Big Enough

Maybe you can "fudge" a little about dress size, but it won't work with shoes. You just HAVE to be honest or your feet will pay.

Marjorie Mead, University of Illinois textiles and clothing specialist, strongly urges you to have your feet measured each time you buy shoes, since stores carry different lasts and styles. She says your feet may change according to the season, the amount of walking and standing you do, and your body weight.

When having shoes fitted, stand up. Your body weight is then thrown forward and the fit is different from when you are sitting.

If the shoes are too tight in the store, don't think they will "loosen up." The shoe clerk can relieve pressure only temporarily. And the stretch will disappear when the first hint of humidity causes the leather to shrink again.

Miss Mead points out that the foot has four dimensions—length, width, depth, and shape. She says to keep all of them in mind when having shoes fitted.

The proportion of the shoe should be correct from heel to ball of foot and from ball to toe in relation to the overall length. Allow 1/2- to 3/4-inch longer for lengthening of foot when standing.

To check width, stand up. The foot should rest on the bottom of the shoe. If it spills over the sides and the leather bulges, it is too tight. The widest part of the shoe should be over the first joint of the big toe. And it should be deep enough to allow toes to move freely.

Length, width and depth may be all right, but if the shape isn't correct for you, you can't wear the shoe. Shoes are built around a wooden form called a last. This is a reproduction of the size and shape of a foot. Most manufacturers have about 60 lasts. Most normal feet can be fitted in shoes made from one of the standard lasts, maybe more than one, although with a different last a different size or width may be needed.

When you find a pair of shoes that feels right, learn the name of the last and the manufacturer. You can buy many styles in the same last.

The best time to buy shoes, according to Miss Mead, is in the middle or at the end of the day. At this time your feet are expanded to their largest size. If you buy shoes early in the morning, they may hurt terribly after a busy day on your feet, especially in hot weather.

THE NEW MRS. AMERICA KNOWS HOW TO BAKE A TASTY SWEET BREAD

Mrs. Margaret Priebe, of Des Moines, Iowa, chosen Mrs. America of 1960, had to prove her prowess as a good cook to gain her title—along with other qualifications such as looks, personality, and community service. Yeast-bread baking was one of the events which tested her, as she represented her home state of Iowa in the recent contest held in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. When you taste these Honey-Orange Rolls, you'll see why the judges chose her as the nation's No. 1 homemaker.

HURRY-UP ORANGE ROLLS

1/4 cup warm, not hot, water
1 package active dry yeast
2 1/2 cups biscuit mix
3/4 cup sugar
Rind from two oranges, grated
1/4 cup butter, melted

Dissolve yeast in warm, not hot water. Add biscuit mix, beat hard. Turn onto surface well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Roll out to a rectangle about quarter inch thick. Combine sugar and grated orange rind. Spread dough with melted butter, sprinkle sugar-orange rind mixture over surface. Roll up jelly roll fashion. Slice at 1-inch intervals. Place cut side down, in greased shallow pan. Cover with damp cloth, let rise until doubled in bulk, (about one hour). Heat oven to 400° F. Bake 10-15 minutes until a rich golden brown. While still hot glaze with 1/2 cup orange juice mixed with 1/2 cup sugar. Separate rolls gently to serve.

Area Residents In Blue Island Music Festival

"The Music Man," "My Fair Lady," and "Porgy and Bess" supply most of the tunes to be featured in Blue Island's ninth "Music Under the Stars" that will be staged Sunday night, Sept. 6. The affair will be held at City stadium, 123rd and Western, and is to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

There will be drama and pageantry this year, besides the singers, dancers and baton twirlers.

Sterling Hall, of Palos Park, is to sing Porgy's role in a couple of selections.

Thirty women will sing as the Sweet Adelines and included are two Tinley Park residents, Alice Ertman, 171st and Lockport, and Carol Gustafson, Rt. 3. From Orland Park is Marilyn Braasch, of 108th ave. and 147th st.

The thirty, all adept at the swipes and runs that make barbershop harmony, will sing "Red, Red Robin" and "Just A-wearyin' for You." Their quartet, the De-Lighters, will give out with "Told Them All About You" and "Over the Rainbow."

Seven from Tinley Park are among the 150 Twirling Jewels--baton tossers who have won many prizes with their colorful and skilled performances. Tinley members of the aggregation are Donna Jensen, 6607 W. 174th; Candy Canty, 17011 LeClare ave.; Cathy Rady, of 17248 66th ct.; Yvonne Evon, 17801 67th ave.; Betty and Sharon Schultz, 17525 66th ave. and Carolyn Mancl, 6626 174th place.

Hold Funeral Rites for Former Will Co. Prosecutor, A. H. Rehn

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, Aug. 31, for A. Hjalmar Rehn, former state's attorney of Will county who died last Friday at Silver Cross hospital following a sudden illness. The services were held from the Carlson chapel at 300 Youngs ave. Joliet, with the Rev. J. W. King officiating. Interment was in Elmhurst cemetery.

Hjalmar Rehn was 73 years old and had been a Joliet resident since 1889. He practiced law in Joliet for many years and also conducted a real estate and investment firm there.

Like many attorneys, Mr. Rehn developed an interest in politics. He was a member of the Will County John Ericsson Republican club and later became president. He also served as president of the John Ericsson Republican League of Illinois.

The late Robert W. Martin who had served as state's attorney for several terms, did not become a candidate for reelection in 1924. Rehn won in the Republican primary, defeating J. W. Faulkner, and in the next primary beat Elmer H. Biehl. He had little difficulty in the November elections.

Rehn was the last state's attorney to get a verdict of death by hanging in an Illinois murder case. That was in the slaying of Peter N. Klein, then a deputy warden at Stateville. Klein was killed as part of an escape plot. Seven prisoners went out. Six were apprehended within a short time and brought to trial at Joliet.

They were found guilty and sentenced to die on the gallows.

The Illinois supreme court affirmed the sentence and in due time it was carried out but not before the prisoners had escaped twice from the county jail and attempted several other breaks. One of the prisoners, Bernardo Roa, fled to Mexico. As far as is known he is still alive. On several occasions some Mexican official has offered to turn Roa over to Illinois and a lot of paperwork has resulted on the part of the state's attorney's office, the governor's office, the state attorney general's office and the office of the U. S. secretary of state.

Some of the papers looked quite impressive with ribbons attached, seals and blobs of dark red wax and it cost the state and the federal government a lot of manhours but the results were the same.

Mexico is said to have never given up one of its nationals to a foreign power and no exception was made in Roa's case, despite the fact that he had caused the Mexican government considerable trouble and was even then serving time in a Mexican prison.

Should ever Roa wander back into the United States and get picked up it is said that if he was executed it would be by hanging. The law changing the mode of execution to electrocution in Illinois became effective shortly after the conviction of the Klein slayer.

Another of the six, also a Mexican, was shot and killed in one of the breaks from the county jail, so in the end four were hanged. The seventh man escaped from Illinois originally was sentenced to prison in New York and on discharge was returned to Will county and pleading guilty to the Klein slaying drew a 99 year sentence.

Rehn it was who appointed James E. Burke his first assistant. Burke's ambition was to become state's attorney and the experience and success that was his as an assistant was of material aid when he ran for the office in 1936. Burke was elected then and became known as one of the most able prosecutors in the state.

After leaving office Mr. Rehn's interest in politics lessened and in 1934 he retired from the active practice of law and devoted his attention to the management of family farms in the Rockville (Illinois) area. He also was successful in several business ventures.

Mr. Rehn was a past master of Matteson lodge, No. 175, AF & AM, and was also a member of Joliet chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Joliet Commandery, No. 4, Knights Templar, Medinah temple and the Joliet Shrine club. Masonic services for him were held Sunday night at the funeral home by Matteson lodge.

Mr. Rehn's only immediate survivor is his widow, the former Fern Smith. The Rehns lived on the edge of Pilcher park on what would have been an extension of Cass street.

Police Cooperating in Statewide Traffic Red Alert Over Weekend

By DELORES ANDERSON
New Lenox 3651

The New Lenox police department will cooperate fully in the statewide traffic condition Red Alert for the Labor Day holiday, Police Chief Geo. E. Kennedy said today.

He said all his officers will be on duty during the 78 hour holiday working closely with state and county police authorities in a full scale crackdown on traffic violators.

Chief Kennedy said the Red Alert, which will be in effect from 6 p.m. Friday thru midnight Monday, identifies a period of extreme danger for motorists.

In order to help reduce accidents during this period, all police agencies in the state are working together in a full scale program of a strict traffic law enforcement.

"Speeders and those who drive after drinking create severe hazards during the holidays when there is a greater volume of traffic," Chief Kennedy said. "Therefore, I have instructed my men to be especially watchful for drunk drivers and speeders."

There will be no warning tickets issued by New Lenox police officers during the holiday, the chief added. "Instead, violators will be arrested on the spot and taken before the judge for immediate disposition of the case," Chief Kennedy declared.

Several of the students of the Minuth School of Dance will take part in the Keeney-Davey, Labor Day parade in Lemont. They will march at 1 p.m. They will use their new idea of the dance march with the twirlers.

New Homes Win Public's Favor, Reports Orland Hills Builders

Enthusiastic public acceptance of a unique type of architect designed, custom built, pre-engineered homes in the medium priced field is evident in the sale of 92 homes for more than $1 1/4 millions in less than four weeks, it was announced by Braun and Aldridge, Inc.

This enterprising team of Martin H. Braun and Frank Aldridge recently startled the local home building industry by launching two multi-million dollar developments with in two weeks of one another. First to be opened was a new custom homes area in Orland Park Hills, with furnished models on display at 151st, a half mile west of Route 45 (La-Grange Mannheim Rd.). Luxury features usually found only in more expensive homes captivated the public fancy to the extent that 60 homes were sold in record time. Close on the heels of this success, Braun & Aldridge launched a similar program in Brookhaven Manor in the Hinsdale area near the Burlington railroad. The "extras at no extra cost" were equally effective there, with the result that 33 homes were sold from furnished models at 79th st. and Cass ave.

These color styled, feature laden homes contain 3 and 4 bedrooms, mostly two baths, and 1,437 to 1,676 square feet under roof. Bearing such historic names as "Betsy Ross", the "Santa Fe" and the "Martha Washington," they sell for $17,300 to $19,650 in Orland Park Hills on 60 and 70 foot lots and for $17,900 to $19,950 in Brookhaven Manor on 70 and 80 foot lots.

The sewers, paved streets and water, are installed and paid. Down payments range from $190 in Orland Park Hills and from $750 in Brookhaven Manor.

When completely developed the two communities will contain 1,400 homes representing a total investment of more than $25,000,000, it was stated. "Spontaneous public response to our custom designed, pre-engineered homes is one of the most gratifying experiences in our long association with the home building industry," said Braun & Aldridge, whose combined experience with Art Lambrecht in charge. The Sr. Youth Fellowship will meet Thursday evening, Sept. 10 at 7:30 p.m. Rev. and Mrs. Bizer will entertain the youth at this meeting.

The Confirmation Classes will meet Saturday, Sept. 12, from 9 to 11 a.m. This includes the 7th and 8th graders.

The Jr. choir will meet Saturday, Sept. 12 at 11 a.m. with Rev. and Mrs. Bizer in charge.

A pre-planning workshop for the Women's Guild Department chairmen of the North Illinois synod will take place next Wed. Sept. 9. The sessions will begin at 10 a.m. with Mrs. Ed. Hoefer of Elgin in charge. The guild will serve a luncheon at noon. This brings workers together of northern Illinois.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Bizer returned from a vacation trip visiting relatives at Pomeroy and Grætinger, Iowa and Welcome and Elitzen, Minn.

Warns Against Powder Mildew of Bluegrass

By JAMES FIZZELL
Assistant Farm Adviser

Powder mildew, a fungus disease of bluegrass lawns, will be very prevalent in the suburban Chicago area this fall. This disease can be recognized by a white powdery growth of the fungus on the leaves of the grass plants. The disease becomes most severe in shaded areas of the lawn, and if control measures are not carried out, much of the bluegrass in these shaded areas may be killed. Merion Bluegrass is especially susceptible to this disease.

Powdery mildew can be controlled with fungicides containing karathane or actidione as the active ingredient. Follow the directions for use given on the package. Finely grown dusting sulfur will prevent the spread of this disease. Sulfur must be reapplied if rains or watering remove

The Upper Room
THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

THURSDAY, SEPT. 3

Read Luke 12:6-12

"Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Let the day's own trouble be sufficient for the day." (Matthew 6:34. RSV.)

It is my belief that sometimes we face experiences when we are literally forced to turn to faith.

I can recall sitting in a hospital corridor when my child was hospitalized. I kept repeating to myself words from Joshua Liebman's book 'Peace of Mind.' He said, "When we grow afraid of life and death... let us know that we can never travel beyond the arms of the Divine."

I realized then that I was entrusting my loved one not only to the care of conscientious doctors and nurses, but also to the care of God. As I sat waiting, I thought how tragic indeed must be the terror of a worried mother who knows not Christ.

"You have launched the ship. Now all you can do is pray for sailing." Such is the advice an old doctor gives to parents when their children must leave the security of home.

How desolate must parents be if they have not learned to pray! Those who entrust themselves and their loved ones to Christ will not fail in life's tests. They are sustained by faith in God's care and guidance.

PRAYER: O God, grant us grace to put our whole trust in Thee. Help us to learn from the lilies of the field and the birds of the air the Saviour's lesson in faith. In His blessed name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Today I will entrust my life to Christ and claim the release He gives from fear.

Creamed Foods Are For Home-Not Picnics

This is the time of the year when wonderful weather makes us all think about taking the family out for a picnic.

Yet there are always simple precautions to follow to insure safety along with the fun, says O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist.

You should avoid preparing food that spoils easily. Such foods are cream pies, fish and egg salads, mayonnaise dishes, sauces, gravies and creamed dishes. These foods must be kept cold until they are eaten. If you prepare any such foods, pack them in ice so that they will keep cold until you get to the picnic area and are ready to eat. Otherwise plan not to use creamed foods if you are in doubt about being able to keep them cold.

Sometimes there is no safe drinking water near the picnic spot, so take your own water and don't take any chances

Another good idea is to put a first aid kit in with the picnic supplies. In the kit, include materials to care for cuts, burns, insect bites and poisonous plants.

When you leave the picnic area, be sure your camp fire is OUT and that you have cleaned up all garbage, leaving the picnic grounds clean.

With these safety measures, you will insure future family outings that will be happy times to enjoy and remember.

How About Truck Highways?

Considerable pressure is being brought to bear on Congress to raise the federal gasoline tax another cent to finance a multi-billion dollar interstate highway program.

It is the contention of those who have made a study of the subject that if the federal government would spend all of the taxes it collects on gasoline and motor oil, paid by motorists, and all the other taxes levied on materials and accessories employed in the manufacture of automobiles instead of diverting it for other purposes, there would be ample funds.

If plans for the interstate highway, No. 80, which is to brush Tinley Park and traverse Will county are taken as a criterion a large portion of the highway funds will be expended wastefully and needlessly.

It would seem to us that the highway money hunters are passing up a prime source thru giving the trucking interests what practically amounts to a free ride.

Engineering studies have proven that the mammoth trucks, many of them overloaded, take a tremendous toll of the highways. If highways could be built for passenger cars only they could be built lighter, and therefore cheaper, and last much longer and with substantially reduced maintenance costs.

It is true that under present conditions trucks could not be eliminated from the highways but we can see no reason why trucking companies do not build their own highway systems.

The railroads have to build and maintain their own tracks and right of ways and besides that pay a thumping big tax bill. Compared to the taxes paid by the railroads the trucks get by for next to nothing.

Trucking interests scream to high heaven about license fees but we doubt if such fees even begin to compensate for the damage done to streets and highways.

Truck highways, as proposed, would be closed to other vehicular traffic as they would be private property but subject to control, of course—like the railroads—by the interstate commerce commission.

No doubt the truckers will brand such a suggestion as impractical, absurd and impossible. What they mean is that it would cut into their profits, a horrible thought no doubt.

But it would certainly take a big load off the other motorists.

On Second Thot

By Glenn F. Logan

Being what might be described as a casual observer of TV, this writer has not become addicted to any particular programs.

This does not mean we never look at the stuff. Unless one lives in some remote spot, far beyond any possible reception, or leads a hermit's existence, there is no escape from TV.

Drop in at a friend's house and one is almost certain to find a TV set in operation.

And if there are youngsters one can be positive that he will see either (a) some cowboy picture or (b) one of the several so called adult westerns, or (c) one of those dick jockey set ups where scores of teenagers go woodenly thru the gyrations called for by the beat of the music (?) to which they perform. These kids appear so exhausted that one gets the feeling they are moving under duress and that if the overseers, who must be hovering about the enclosure just out of camera range, ever relax their attention or lay down their big black cruel whips with the metal tipped lashes, the dancers will collapse on the floor.

We were unfortunate the other night in that we got stuck for the works—cowboys, lawmen, badmen and the juvenile sleep walkers.

One of the adult westerns that was our misfortune to see, had Bat Masterson as the central figure or hero. We do not mean to imply that we have anything against the original Mr. Masterson, in stating that it was unfortunate that the program of that name was on when we were caught before a TV set.

As a matter of fact this writer has been and is an admirer of Mr. Masterson who had quite a career as a peace officer with occasional speculations in real estate, mining and other business ventures, including the gambling and saloon trade. He wound up his days on a morning New York newspaper.

We have talked with persons who knew Masterson and were acquainted with the brothers Earp and others who played leading parts on the Kansas frontier. And we have read the newspapers of early Dodge City, Hays, Abilene and Wichita that were—and we suppose are—in bound files in the state historical building at Topeka. In many of them were stories concerned with the deeds and words of Bat but until we saw this TV serial the other night we had never heard of Mr. Masterson using a cane—shooting or otherwise—to quell disorder.

Bat's brother, Ed, was disposed to keep order by slugging a fractious visitor with the barrel or butt of his pistol, and Bat warned him repeatedly against such practices having found thru experience that coddling tactics didn't pay.

Ed Masterson failed to follow this advice, however, and the issue of the Dodge City paper that followed this failure, carried a black border around Page 1 on which appeared the story of Ed's demise.

At an altercation in a dance hall Ed made the mistake of attempting to reason with a couple of belligerent citizens instead of plugging them. He had deprived them of their hardware but they reared and shortly thereafter Marshall Masterson's life blood was draining away thru big holes made by soft lead .45 slugs propelled by black powder.

Bat is credited with having hired his brother's slayers but by orthodox employment of his Colt pistol. Few men have ever hunted bear with a switch and you can bet that Bat wouldn't be hunting men tougher than bears with a cane.

Wild Bill Hickock is said to have carried a sawed off billiard cue, loaded with lead, as a sort of cane on occasion, but this writer can't recall of ever hearing that Bat went about equipped with such a fancy stick as does the man who portrays him in the TV show of the same name.

We recall of reading once about some character—one of the badmen troupe—who was quite flattered to learn that his threat to take Dodge apart had merited such attention from the famous Bat that when he came jogging up Front street on his horse, Mr. Masterson stood by an open window with the visitor under the sights of a Sharp's rifle rested on the sill, all set to let go if the man tried to start anything. The Sharps was used by the buffalo hunters and the heavy ball from such a piece was capable of knocking down and killing one of the big animals at a couple of hundred yards.

This would indicate that Mr. Masterson was a man who agreed with Napoleon that Providence was on the side with the heaviest artillery. Certainly he wasn't out to hell an uprising with a cane.

Nor did he make use of a cane after going to New York. We have no information of that and even if he did we doubt that it had the lethal qualities possessed by his stick on TV.

Oh well, it's different anyway. With all the other peace officers using guns, the producers of Bat Masterson probably figured that he had to use another method if he was to get attention by the public. Don't be surprised to see a new Robin Hood series start sometime with the hero discarding the long bow for a sling shot or a lasso.

Altho controversial in some circles and subject to questions about its eventual tax structure, the newly proposed amendment to Cook county's zoning ordinance stands a good chance of being adopted, probably by fall, according to Myron H. Fox, president of Bell Savings and Loan Association, which keeps tables on amount of construction in the Chicago metropolitan area.

This was also the feeling held by Charles F. Chaplin, member of the board of commissioners of Cook county. He contends that the normal per acre evaluation of farmland in Cook county's unincorporated areas "would probably soon be appraised for tax purposes far in excess of its farmland evaluation, with the farmer's taxes up proportionately."

Mr. Chaplin said that in his opinion farmers and subdivision developers in the county's unincorporated areas "should not count on a speed up in the present 90 day period required for the filing of petitions for amendment and a subsequent public hearing. The new comprehensive amendment to the zoning ordinance, he said, will be more of a clarification than a speed up."

Walter T. Popjoy, secretary of the zoning board of appeals of Cook county, and other members of the zoning committee believe that a major defect in the still existent 1940 Cook county zoning ordinance is its over simplification. Brevity, he said, while desirable, can prove disastrous if extreme latitude of interpretation transforms a zoning ordinance into a group of definitions so loose that they become subject to countless varieties of interpretation. The farm owners are fighting the proposed change.

Other Diseases of the Mouth

The first thing the old family doctor did when called to examine a sick person was to say, "Stick out your tongue."

He knew the mouth was the mirror of the body.

Today, dentists often discover clues to general bodily diseases by examining the mouth

Anemia, for example, often manifests itself by a discoloration of mouth tissue. Certain malnutrition or glandular diseases show themselves in the gums. Leukemia frequently is first seen by the dentist who refers the unsuspecting victim to his family physician.

The dentist also sees diseases that originate in the teeth or gums and give rise to general bodily disease.

One of these is Vincent's infection. This is caused by germs that become active in the mouth because of poor mouth hygiene, dietary and alcoholic excesses and lowered resistance.

It is popularly known as "trench mouth" because in World War I it was found frequently among soldiers who lived under crowded, unhygienic conditions in trench warfare.

Canker sores are small open wounds which occur usually in sheltered places, such as in the inner fold of the cheeks. Because nerve endings frequently are present beneath the sore, there is severe pain associated with cankers.

Other mouth conditions seen by dentists include cancer of the tongue or lip and infections in the nasal passages.

Act Prohibits Children Working On Farms During School Hours

Illinois farmers hiring workers for the fall harvest were reminded today that the Fair Labor Standards Act prohibits work by children under 16 years of age on farms during school hours.

"The Federal law provides children with a priceless commodity—time to go to school," says Earl F. Halverson, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, the agency which enforces the Act.

The child labor provisions protect local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike, Halverson pointed out. There is only one exception to the rule prohibiting children under 16 from working in agriculture during school hours of the school district where the child lives while working, he added. The exception is for the farmer's child working on his parent's farm. He also stated that children may lawfully work on farms before and after school hours, and on weekends and other days when there is no school.

"The farmer can easily make sure of the age of any young worker if he asks for an age certificate. A certificate showing the young person is old enough for the job serves as proof of age for purposes of the Act," Halverson said. These certificates can generally be obtained from local school officials.

The child labor provisions apply to farmers who engage in interstate commerce or ship produce in interstate commerce or to dealers in the same state who ship the produce in interstate commerce.

Regional Director Halverson said persons who want more information about the application of the Act to children working on farms should get in touch with the Wage Hour Offices at Room 1100, 105 W. Adams st., Chicago 3, or Room 205 Bradley Bldg., 402 East Adams Street, Springfield.

School Enrollment Continues to Grow in Cook Co., Says Puffer

County Superintendent of Schools Noble J. Puffer today announced an estimated 9% increase in elementary school enrollment a mounting to 16,363 pupils. The actual enrollment as of September 1958 was 179,880 elementary pupils, while the estimated enrollment, compiled after a careful survey of the schools, totals 196,243 pupils for the opening of school, which will be the day after Labor Day.

Twenty four new school buildings have been completed with a total of 316 classrooms. Thirty two additions to existing buildings have been made, providing 273 classrooms. The total cost of such construction is $16,430,000.

In commenting on the elementary school conditions, Superintendent Puffer said, "We had hoped that half day sessions could be substantially reduced this year, but from all indications there will be eleven districts having 171 classes on half day sessions compared to nine districts last year with 120 classes on half day sessions.

"Sub standard or rented rooms have been reduced from 91 last year to 85 this year. Some large classes have been reduced, the number being 43 this year as compared with 62 large classes in school districts last year."

The high school enrollment shows an increase of 4,772 pupils, an increase of 7%. Six new buildings have been built including a 7 room junior college building at Bloom Township High School. These new buildings have provided 272 additional classrooms. Two additions have been constructed to existing classrooms, providing 51 additional new high school classrooms. The total cost of new high school construction is $15,140,000. The total cost for both elementary and high school facilities is approximately $31,500,000.

Said Superintendent Puffer in closing, "I can see no let up in the continued building of new facilities which will be necessary to house the continuing high enrollments of pupils. I am grateful to the citizens of suburban Cook County who have cooperated so wholeheartedly in providing new facilities each year for these increased enrollments. The interest of the citizens and their support of good public schools is a very heartening experience."

Palos Church Ends Summer Schedule Beginning Sept. 13

The summer schedule of services at 7:30 and 10:00 a.m. will prevail on Sept. 6, the Sunday of the labor day week end at the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration, Palos Park.

On Sunday, Sept. 13, church school classes for children will open and the regular fall schedule of Sunday services, 7:30, 9:00 and 11:00 a.m. will begin.

Classes for children, age seven thru 13, will meet at 9:45 a.m. following the 9 o'clock family Eucharist. A high school class will meet in the church at 9:45 a.m.

During the 11 o'clock service children, age two through six, will be accommodated in three separate classes.

Yields on the world famous Morrow Plots at the University of Illinois ranged from 24 to 94 bushels this year. The low yield occurred on a plot where no soil treatments had been added since the plots were started in 1876. The high yield was made on a plot that had received a manure lime-phosphate treatment since 1904.

Red Cross Work Can be Done in Own Community

Nine volunteer Red Cross services which can be performed right in the community are open to residents of Tinley Park, announces Mrs. Voris Miller, 17539 S. 65th ave., Red Cross volunteer public information representative.

Noting that circumstances and personal preference sometimes demand that a person serve at home, Mrs. Miller says there are valuable jobs that can be done to help a needy neighbor or to instruct local citizens in health and safety measures, without leaving the community.

No matter what your background, one of the following jobs will fit your qualifications, temperament and time schedule:

1. Disaster representative -- provide emergency food, housing and clothing to disaster victims.
 2. First aid instructor: teach free classes in accident prevention and emergency care.
 3. Fund -- help during Red Cross fund campaign.
 4. Junior Red Cross community representative -- work with your community schools.
 5. Home nursing instructor: teach home nursing care and a course for prospective parents.
 6. Production service -- make items for disaster victims, hospitalized servicemen and veterans.
 7. Public information representative -- help to publicize Red Cross services, classes.
 8. Volunteer speaker -- Tell groups about Red Cross.
 9. Water safety instructors: teach swimming, life saving and small craft skills.
- And there are always opportunities for Red Cross volunteer work outside the community. Aiding veterans, servicemen and their families in the Chicago area involves a variety of other services such as entertainment, nursing, counseling, and driving.
- The theme of this year's recruitment campaign is "People Need Red Cross, Red Cross Needs People. Give Some of Your Time." If you want to help people and receive great personal satisfaction at the same time, call Jane Gray, WA8ash 2-7850, or Mrs. Miller and get more information regarding the service of your choice.

Countryside News and Views

By WILLIAM F. WHITESIDE
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

A committee of farmers and others interested in the Extension Program met last week to plan an educational program for the coming year. There were many good ideas presented during this committee meeting. Based on the committee's recommendations, we will come up with a program in the fields of: livestock production, dairy production and marketing, crops and soils, weed and insect control, flowers and ornamentals, gardening problems facing home owners, and commercial vegetable production.

Our sincere thanks to the committee members who contributed so generously of time and effort.

Not much wheat is grown in Cook County; however, for those farmers planning to seed wheat this fall, the recommended seeding dates are: Sept. 19 to 22. Through research by the Illinois State Natural History Survey, these dates are established yearly on two basis.

1. Reduction of the Hessian fly population, which is very destructive to wheat; and 2. these dates over the years have resulted in the highest yield.

Two important meetings of interest to farmers are: Illinois Cattle Feeders Day, Sept. 4. This program is conducted at the University of Illinois and gives farmers a chance to get up to date on current cattle feeding recommendations. Those who don't wish to travel so far and don't have beef cattle, there will be a field day at the Agronomy Experiment field in Will County, starting at 10 a.m., at the Joliet field. The afternoon meeting will be held at the station at Elwood.

Soil fertilization makes a big difference, as evidenced at the experiment fields on the Morrow Plots at the University of Illinois. Oat yields range from 24 bushels per acre on plots where no soil treatment has been added since 1876. The high yield of 94 bushels was made on a plot which has received manure, lime and phosphate treatment since 1904. Soil management pays off!

A new fly, called the "face fly" is pestering both dairy and beef cattle for the first time in Illinois this summer. These flies are persistent and greatly annoy cattle. They usually cluster around the eyes and cause the animals eyes to water excessively. For treatment of the animals, use either DDT or toxaphene on beef cattle. Don't market the cattle treated with DDT until four months after treatment. For toxaphene, wait 28 days. For dairy cattle that will not freshen for four months, follow the suggestions given for beef cattle. For milking cattle, use 6 to 8 ounces of a 2% Traxbrex repellent spray per head.

From the number of telephone calls we receive, it appears that wasps are causing a good deal of concern to homeowners. These pests can be controlled with a chlordane or dieldrin spray. Follow instructions on the container very carefully.

Club will meet Thursday, Sept. 10, at 8 p.m. at Homer church recreation room.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Lovell of Tucson, Ariz. spent the weekend calling on friends in Lockport and Homer. Mrs. Lovell is the former Grace Beagley, who lived with the late Mr. and Mrs. George Reed of Homer for several years.

The Eugene Andersons have returned from a vacation at Glacier Park, Mont. They were 200 miles from Yellowstone, but felt the tremor from the quake. They were accompanied by the Edward McGuire family of Manhattan.

The Fire Auxiliary held a successful rummage sale in Joliet last week. Their Sept. meeting was Tuesday to avoid conflict with Labor Day; their customary meeting day being the first Monday of each month.

Mrs. John Loucks presided at the business session of the Missionary society Thursday, in the absence of Mrs. Waldvogel. Mrs. Elvig reported on a meeting of the dinner committee for the Fall Festival which will be held Oct. 15. It is planned to have a roast beef dinner with all the trimmings. Following the devotional service, an interesting report was given by all present on the recent books and magazine articles which I have liked. The auction at the Otto Konow farm on Sept. 19 also was discussed. Everyone interested is asked to donate baked goods, plants, canned goods, or anything saleable except used clothing, which has not gone
